1. Internship Characteristics

The Europeye Publishing House is offering students with European citizenship enrolled in any European University interested in journalism and international politics, an internship for the academic year 2017/2018 at the Rome news-desk of the bimonthly magazine Eastwest and the daily online news site Eastwest.eu. The internship will last six weeks.

Purpose of the internship: students will take part in the lay-out and production of the two publications (hardcopy and online). They will be involved in all daily organisation and other activities based on the circumstances and the requirements.

- a) Eastwest bimonthly: collection and assessment of proposed articles, preparation of the content index list, participation in the editorial committee, commissioning of articles, preparation of the 'page layout' draft, editing, titling suggestions, photo research;
- b) Eastwest.eu daily: collection and assessment of proposals, commissioning of articles, receipt of commissioned articles, editing, titling suggestions, photo search;

2. Participation pre-requisites

- A good working spoken and written knowledge of the English Language (knowledge of other languages will in any case provide added value on the job).
- Good IT competence including management of database, social media and websites.
- Having enrolled to take part in the Eastwest Forum 2017

3. How to apply

Requested documentation

Taking your cue from the discussions that take place during the morning of the Eastwest Forum 2017, prepare a specific question for each of the 3 panels:

- 1- Access to internet as a human right
- 2- Algorithms and Democracy
- 3- New business and employment models.

The questions must be delivered in written form on the same day – 12 July 2017 – attaching:

- copy of the student's exam report with the indication of exams passed and mark awarded;
- contact details, including telephone number and e-mail address;
- presentation letter in which the student must explain the reasons why he/she wishes to take part in the internship.

4. Internship allocation

The Scientific Committee of the Eastwest magazine chaired by editor-in-chief Giuseppe Scognamiglio, will assess the questions and select the winner taking into consideration the student's university curriculum.

The assessment criteria will be based on the originality and level of insight revealed by questions, and on the demonstrable level of attention paid to the panel discussions.

The result will be communicated directly to the winner and published on Eastwest.eu by 30 September 2017 (date to be confirmed).
