

in this issue

no.4

may 2005

europa under construction

welfare state

enlargement

The comment

dialogues of the third kind balkans

new europe economic dossier movements and culture

made in italy

globalization

"that's incredible" column

- 004 Editorial BY ENRICO LETTA
- 008 Secchi: A New Ethic for a New Idea of the City EDITED BY ALESSANDRA CIPOLLA
One of Italy's leading architects explains that Europe is an open building site where creativity is not supported by an overall plan.
- 016 The Many Faces of the Prism Called "Identity" BY ALDO BONOMI
A study by Caritas reveals that the enlargement creates development opportunities through migratory flows. The real problem will be how to manage the integration processes.
- 026 Europe and America – Two Takes on the Welfare State EDITED BY VITTORIO BORELLI Interview with the economist Alberto Alesina, Dean at Harvard, on the different government policies for redistributing wealth in the two continents.
- 032 Make the Integration Process Irreversible BY PAOLO GNES
The majority of Europeans is in favour of transferring jurisdiction over foreign policy and defence matters to Brussels. This could be the turning point needed by the Union.
- 041 Who is Afraid of Flat Tax BY FABRIZIO CORICELLI
The real obstacles to be removed are those hindering competition in the products, labour and financial markets.
- 045 It's All Very Well to Hit Out at the ECB BY JEAN-CLAUDE TRICHET
- 052 What Kind of Growth is there Without Factories? BY FRANCO MOSCONI Services rise, industry falls, it is too early to speak about "deindustrialisation", but this new trend certainly poses some strategic problems.
- 057 Adenauer & Spinelli Talk About Lisbon Two BY DONATO SPERONI
Virtual debate between two founding fathers of Europe who suggest their remedies to relaunch the integration process.
- 062 Botta: The Rush for the East Needs To Be Planned EDITED BY ANTONIO BARBANGELO
The Italian companies already operating in the area are 20,000. But, as the Italian economist explains, investments are needed, especially in infrastructure
- 067 A Big Chance for the Adriatic Regions BY MICHELE CAPRIATI
A plan for a highly integrated Adriatic region should not be hindered but encouraged. Obviously as long as peace continues in the Balkans
- 072 Focus on Bulgaria
- 076 Crespi: Europe Can Do More for Art and Environment
EDITED BY SILVIA RECANATI
FAI's President tells how she got started, who stood by her and who was against her. And on European enlargement...
- 082 When There Is No System Among Capitalists BY ANTONIO CALABRO'
The most renowned Italian entrepreneurs talk about potential and problems on foreign markets.
- 089 This Is Why China Is Investing Abroad BY STEFANO CHIARLONE
What generates the Chinese boost for investments abroad, Italy included
- 094 A CURA DI CARLOTTA MAGNANINI

glocalist leaders

arts&crafts

dossier

free numbers

points of view

letters

who's who

- 096 From Pipe Manufacturer to Honorary Engineer EDITED BY GUIDO VIGNA
Steno Marcegaglia explains how he managed to build a model company starting with a “plain” product like the pipe
- 100 Bregovic: My Gipsy Trumpets for a World without Frontiers BY CRISTINA GIULIANO
The great Serb-Croat musician talks about himself, his music and the relation between art and politics.
- 105 WHERE IS NEW RUSSIA HEADING
- 106 The Great Stall BY PIERO SINATTI
Economy is the testing ground of Vladimir Putin, but it is too linked to the sales of petroleum and raw materials. In the meantime, the President’s popularity is in decline...
- 115 All of Vladimir Challenges to Relaunch Economy
BY JANA KOSTOVA AND DEBORA REVOLTELLA
Russia is investment grade, but some inconsistencies in economic policy are jeopardizing the plan for economy diversification.
- 118 Doing Business With Russia? Yes, Please BY OLGA ANNUSHKINA
Not only China, but the Russian market as well offers interesting development opportunities for Italian companies
- 122 More than Kasparov, it Would Take Superman BY ANNA ZAFESOVA
The former chess world champion is running for office, but the opposition would need independent media, autonomous courts and financing sources not influenced by the President
- 129 What is Left of the Soviet Empire BY FERNANDO ORLANDI
The correlation of forces in the post-Soviet space is changing
- 133 Romano: Putin Can Be Assessed in the Long Run BY CLEMENTE DELLA MONICA
Maybe not everybody likes the new direction of Russian policy, but there are no credible alternatives.
- 137 Between Conflicting Passions, Waiting for the New Puškin BY MAURO MARTINI Western publishers show a renewed interest in Russian literature. That is why
- 141 And the New Cinema Returns to its Roots BY ORNELLA CALVARESE
After a dark period, Russian filmmaking starts searching again for its own identity
- 144 Once upon a time in USSR REPRINT FROM EUROPEO
- 153 EDITED BY LARA COTT
- 154 They Wrote
Giovanni Paolo II as seen – critically as well – by: “Financial Times”, “Frankfurter Allgemeine”, “El Pais”, “Herald Tribune”, “Le Monde”, “La Stampa”
- 165 Dear editor..
- 166 Who are the contributors to east n.4