

in this issue

no. 12

december 2006

migrations

the opinion

japan

dictatorships

cooperation

fashion

russia

“that’s incredible” column

energy

- 004 Editorial BY ANNA POLITKOVSKAJA
- 008 This is a world of migrants BY DONATO SPERONI
We have to understand how the phenomenon of migration evolves, and devise a reception policy that is both selective and capable of encouraging integration
- 019 The British model is more efficient BY DANILO TAINO
It’s the global market that determines migration. An analysis of ongoing experiences to understand which methods are the most efficient ones
- 024 Immigration in Italy: between Exodus and Diaspora BY ALDO BONOMI
- 028 The Re-Awakening of Japan BY MARIA ELENA VIGGIANO
Corrado Molteni, one of Italy’s principal experts on Japan, tells us how Asia’s greatest economic power is changing
- 036 Burma: caught between peacocks and generals EDITED BY CRISTINA GIULIANO
Cecilia Brighi talks about her book, Il Pavone e i Generali (Of Peacocks and Generals), which reveals the iron hand of the Burmese military regime
- 042 Bonino: for Europe gradualism doesn’t pay EDITED BY DONATO SPERONI
The volcanic Minister for European Politics and International Commerce would like more vision and courage, and mourns the idea of a United States of Europe
- 052 Today’s fashion comes from Belgrade BY SANJA LUCIC Fashion is not dead in Serbia, also thanks to the advent of young designers such as Iva Stefanovic
- 058 Konsolidatsija along Gazprom lines in Russia BY PIERO SINATTI
Other super-holdings are being set up on the lines of the well-known gas monopoly: a new phenomenon in Putin’s Russia
- 068 EDITED BY CARLOTTA MAGNANINI
- 070 A strategic battle for energy BY FERNANDO ORLANDI
The absence of a common energy policy in Europe is decidedly to the advantage of those who, like Putin, wish to create a new balance of power
- 079 Turkey’s role in the EU energy policy EDITED BY ELENA FENILI AND FRANCESCA NENCI
The Green Paper is the first European outline of a common energy policy. However, Europe and Turkey must also coordinate their own policies better
- 083 Energy policy: the European paradox BY MATTEO VACCANI AND ANTONIO VILAFRANCA
The German presidency and the Declaration on the 50 years of the signature of the Rome Treaty are an opportunity for courageous choices...
- 089 All eyes on Germany’s six-month presidency BY ANTONIO BARBANGELO Common European energy strategies will be on the top of Angela Merkel’s agenda. Antonio Villafranca, head of the European area for ISPI, expresses his view
- 093 Russia at the centre of European supplies BY HANS HOLZHACKER
After Russia and Ukraine’s gas quarrel, the issue of energy security has become a decisively important problem

dossier

097 THE VALUE OF SECULARISM

098 An Islam we can talk to BY KHALED FOUAD ALLAM

104 Secularity: What it Means Today BY ADRIANO BOTTERI

A religious person, Enzo Bianchi, a scientist, Adriano Pessina, and a philosopher, Giulio Giorello, discuss secular thought and the freedom to express religion both individually and in a social context

118 The role of secularism in a multicultural society BY ANNA BLONDÉ

Paolo Braca, a specialist in Islamic studies, Madgi Allam, the deputy editor of "Corriere della Sera", who is of Muslim origin, and Alberto Melloni, one of the leading religion scholars, discuss this theme

135 Deus vult: tales of ordinary intolerance BY ALESSANDRA CIPOLLA

Episodes of religious intolerance erupting into violence and causing deaths throughout the world are becoming more common. Here is a summary of some of the most disturbing episodes in recent years

portfolio

147 Auras: when the sacred crosses boundaries TEXT AND PHOTOS BY MONIKA BULAJ

Monika Bulaj takes a journey back in time along the path of the early Christians, travelling with a notebook and a camera in search of a possible cohabitation

free numbers

161 EDITED BY LARA COTT

glocalist leaders

162 Corneliani: The knight is still in the saddle EDITED BY GUIDO VIGNA

The story of one of the world's best menswear companies, which boasts a turnover of over € 130 million and net profits of € 3 million

167 Croatia: an outlet market for Italians BY MATTEO FERRAZZI AND DEBORA REVOLTELLA

Foreign entrepreneurs in Central and Eastern Europe analyze the main drivers of internationalization.

enlargement

172 Di Stasi: the capitals of the other Europe EDITED BY DAVIDE INTEGLIA

Brussels, Strasbourg and St Petersburg: the "European building site" is made up of consolidated institutions as well as new structures, says Giovanni Di Stasi

new europe economic dossier

180 Focus on Bulgaria and Romania

history

184 The communist movement and the watershed year of '56 BY FERNANDO ORLANDI

From the end of Stalinism to the threat of armed intervention in Poland and the events in Hungary. There's every reason to call 1956 an unforgettable year

who's who

190 Contributors to east no. 12